

Short No. 42, VCD - 1063

Topic - The world is standing on heaps of explosives

The world is standing on a heap of explosives. Just like a fort is built on a heap of sand, many countries have made and stocked the atom bombs. Two world wars have taken place. Not even a century has passed. So, can't the third world war break out?