Topic - God comes only once at the end of the Iron Age

God comes only at the end of the Iron Age. When the world becomes as bad as it can be; when lust, anger, greed, attachment and ego increase to a great extent, it is then that God comes to this world. No one has the power to control it. Whether Abraham, Buddha, Christ, Guru Nanak, Vivekanand or Gandhiji, whoever have come; all of them went into the ditch of degradation. Even the world goes into the ditch of degradation. No one's power works. Then, at the end, God comes and creates Brahmins through the mouth of Brahma to uplift this world and among those Brahmins, those who are the Suryavanshi Brahmins, they become the real, true companions of the Supreme Soul Father.
