Topic - Indication of the end of the world

At the end of the Iron Age, during the final period of the cycle, when the dualistic world comes to an end, all the governments of the world... what? All of them, number wise, come under the influence of the media. They believe in hearsay. See it in practice in the Brahmin world now. So, when all the departments of the government start to become influenced by hearsay, consider that the end of this world has arrived now.
