Topic - Divine love is unfettered by bhakti

Student: My second question is... Isn't watching drishti on T.V., in a VCD, a kind of sanskaar of bhakti?

Baba: Yes, it is. The one whose heart will be attached to the living one... Just like, there are lovers, if they see [each other] once in their life, they don't forget them the entire life. They become completely devoted [to each other] throughout their life. So, can the remembrance of once be made constant forever or not? It can be. If they have such sanskaars of the 63 births, only then will they have such remembrance. Otherwise, even if you keep going around hanging a picture around your neck like the gurus of the path of bhakti, you won't remember [Him].
