Topic - New colours emerge from the silence of the mind

Through the silence of the mind, new colours will emerge. What? When a man is tired of speaking at home and nobody listens to him, no one obeys him. So what does he do? He becomes quiet. He becomes silent and works with the internal passion of [his] mind. He works with the voice of his heart. And the work is accomplished through that voice of the heart. Likewise, a quiet mind will bring new colours in the service of God in the end.
