... Arey, is there any chief of even those who make the scriptures or not? He, who is worshiped by everyone doesn't worship anybody. He doesn't listen to the scriptures from anyone. Who is that actor in the scriptures? They show Vyas. In the [epic] Mahabharata, there is only one actor whom everyone accepts. So, that soul who is the ocean of knowledge, he always narrates [knowledge], he doesn't listen from anybody. Even in the path of bhakti does he listen or narrate [knowledge]? He narrates [it]. It is in the intellect of you children that the new world will be absolutely small; the task of listening and narrating the knowledge won't be there. What? Will the task of listening and narrating [the knowledge] be there? (Student: No.) Then, what will you do? Is it about the Golden Age, the Silver Age, the Copper and Iron Age, the subtle world or the Supreme Abode? It is about which time? The world will be very small. It will be an absolutely small world. It is about which time? (Student: Confluence Age.) Yes, it is about the Golden Confluence Age. This old world is certainly so big. The new world will in fact be so small. There is so much light in the whole world. You do so many things with light! There is so much dazzling [in the world]. The new world which will be very small; will you do the task of listening and narrating the knowledge there? What will you do? Arey, will you do anything or just sit like a dumb person? What will you do? (Student replied.) Yes, you will stay becoming an embodiment of light and spread the vibrations of the form of light in the whole world.

As for the rest, there won't be any task of the karmendriyaan, you will sit in tapasya. It isn't that you will be a dead corpse; you won't be even a corpse. You will have body, you will be living but will you perform the task through the eleventh indriya or the physical indriyaan? You will perform the task through vibrations. How will the world be transformed? The world is transformed through vibrations. If it doesn't happen like that, sit and give drishti to the animals, they will also be reformed. Should they be transformed or not? If you give drishti to the animals, will they be transformed? They won't. They will be transformed only through vibrations. So look, this is the specialty of light. There is physical light in that world and this is searchlight. What? The entire world will be transformed through searchlight. That world itself will be small. There certainly won't be this light there. Will there be? When atom bombs explode everywhere, earthquakes occur, will these lights remain anymore? They certainly won't. It is as if it will be a small village, the new world won't be a metropolitan city. Now there are such big villages. There are more than seven-eight metropolitan cities in Bharat itself. There certainly won't be so many there.

There will be a few main and good roads there. What? Now, there are many [people] in the world who show road and there are also many roads. The more the people, the more the roads they show; everyone gives his different opinion. There will be a few main roads there. How many [roads] will there be? There will be at the most how many [souls] to show the road and how many roads will there be in that new world which will be very small? (Student commented.) No. There will be eight roads and those who show them will also be eight. If there aren't eight roads in that small world, how will the main religions flourish in the big world of five billion [souls]? Are they flourishing or not? They are.

There, in the new world even the five elements become satopradhaan. What? It will be a small world. When there is the small world, will the nature be satopradhaan or tamopradhaan in the entire world? (Student: Satopradhaan.) The entire world? The nature will be satopradhaan in the small world. Just as there is the praise of the sages and saints in the scriptures... What is the praise? Arey, is there any praise of the vibrations of the ashram of the sages and saints mentioned in the scriptures? There isn't? A lion and goat used to drink water at the same [river] bank. Are there such sages and saints in today's world? There aren't. So, it is about which time? Is it about the Golden Age, the Silver Age, the Copper Age [or] the Iron Age? It is about which time? It isn't about the sages and saints of the beginning of the Copper Age. There you don't find any guru who creates such vibrations. It is about which time? It is about 5000 years ago where there was a world of such vibrations that whoever came in their contact and connection, his vibrations changed. Even a soul who plays a role like a lion and a soul who plays a part like a subordinate goat will drink water at the same [river] bank. They will stay as souls who are brothers for each other. It isn't that it is about the sages and saints of the beginning of the Copper Age. There, even the five elements will be satopradhaan. When it is called a small world, will the big world be present at that time or not? Arey, [just] a few people are answering. When such a small world of satopradhaan vibrations is formed, will the big world exist or not? That [world] will also exist but there, the five elements will be tamopradhaan. Those tamopradhaan five elements will cause a lot of harm. They will give a lot of sorrow and how will the five elements of the small satopradhaan world become? They will become satopradhaan.

Are [those] elements and the combined form of those elements [i.e.] nature inert or sentient? They are inert. That inert nature doesn't accept the topics of knowledge. What? It is as if she doesn't assimilate the topics of knowledge at all. Through what does she reform? Through vibrations. Just like the other living creatures apart from human beings have an inert intellect. They won't listen to the knowledge, they won't understand it either. So, how will they reform? They will be reformed through vibrations. So, even the five elements will be satopradhaan there. In rest of the world, in the big world, the five elements will be extremely tamopradhaan. They will become very sorrow giving. As for the rest, in that new small world, these five elements will never become unsteady. People ask: how can it be that there are earthquakes and atomic explosions in the entire world, the vibrations are spoilt, the air is polluted by the bad odour of the atom bombs and it doesn't affect Mount Abu even to the slightest extent? What power will it be? It will be the collective power of Raja Yoga, where there won't be any effect of these worldly five elements. There isn't the inconstancy of the indriyaan either. None of the five elements will become inconstant. It is as if it becomes the abode of happiness. Which abode? The souls who sit in that world won't experience sorrow. They will certainly have a body but they won't experience sorrow mentally. Why?

If any relatives of theirs are in America, Africa [and] they receive the news of their death, won't they become sad? (Student replies.) Yes. They can never become sorrowful. It is as if it becomes the abode of happiness [for them]. Its very name is heaven. What? Why is its name heaven? What [is] the task [performed there] that its [name] is heaven? It is called 'svarg' in Hindi. What is the reason that it is named svarg? Everybody in the new world... it isn't that [only] those who show the path... No. Everybody in that world will be in the stage of the self. This is why, they will experience svarg. Its name is 'hai' 'win' in English. What? 'Win' means gained victory. They are those who gain victory, not those who lose. They aren't going to lose to Ravan, Mandodari, the five vices or the five elements of nature. Are they those who lose to nature or are they those who gain victory over nature? All [of them] are those who gain victory over nature. So, its very name is heaven.

In future, the closer you keep coming [to the Father], think that you will keep progressing. Your wisdom [and] intellect will also keep progressing. At present, they are bound in the bondage of the body. What? Those ghosts and spirits... They (black magicians) gather a crowd on roads, they make a soul enter someone. So, does the soul that enters have a broad intellect or a narrow intellect compared to those who are standing in the crowd? They have a broad intellect. This is why [when] they ask them to tell how much money someone has in his pocket, they tell [them] he has this much money in his pocket. He has these many notes of five rupees, these many of ten and these many of hundred [rupees]. And that proves to be correct. So, it was said: your wisdom like intellect will keep progressing there. What? It isn't necessary that sitting at one place you will come to know where there was atomic explosion in the world and which country or city is annihilated only when you watch the T.V. No. Your intellect will become so broad that your internal T.V. will turn on. Just like Bapdada says now: you children start writing [your] potamail [here] and that letter is displayed on Bapdada's T.V. For example, they show in the scriptures that Rukmini started writing a letter and that letter came in Krishna's hand at the same second. All these stories are of which time? The Confluence Age. So, your wisdom [and] intellect will keep progressing.

The Father will also keep giving you visions. He will also give you the visions of the intellect and knowledge. And those who won't have so much intellect, they... It is because the Father's children are of all kinds. The children who have 84 births are also of all kinds. There are children who become heirs and there are children who become royal officers, who achieve big powers in the kingdom. There are rich children as well as the Father's subjects. Which Father's? The one above or the one below? (Students: the one below.) There are his subjects as well as his devotees. So, does the Father come to make devotees? The Father of the souls doesn't come to make devotees. Who is the father whose children also become devotees? It is the corporeal father. So, the children who become devotees, whose intellect is not able to become so stable, those who aren't able to stabilize in the soul conscious stage to that extent or are not able to recognize the Father completely, although they don't have visions of the third eye, they will keep having the visions of closed eyes which is called the divine eye. The Father will keep giving you these visions. What? Then, you won't need even the army or aeroplanes etc. for war at that time. When? When you start having these kinds of visions. They in fact say: just sitting here we will destroy the entire world, we can destroy it. So, these aeroplanes etc. won't come in use. Then, this moon etc. ... Those who are planning to buy plots etc. on the moon or other planets and satellites will all vanish. All this is nonsense. They have the ego of science that they keep using their intellect in such a way. Accha, Om Shanti.
